FORCE 100 <http://www.force100.org/>

The Voice of a Nation comparison: http://www.force100.org/compare_rights.htm

Every State United for Equal Justice In Memory of Victims Everywhere for 23 criminal rights versus no victim rights versus 8 proposed constitutional rights found in Victims' Right's Amendment.

Rights That Were to Be Granted Under Victims' Rights Amendment

- (1) "to reasonable and timely notice of any public proceeding" (S.J. Res.1, Section 2)
- (2) "to reasonable and timely notice of any release or escape of the accused" (S.J. Res.1, Section 2)
- (3) "to not be excluded from [any] public proceeding" (S.J. Res. 1, Section 2)
- (4) "reasonably to be heard at public release, plea, sentencing, reprieve, and pardon proceedings" (S.J. Res. 1, Section 2)
- (5) "to adjudicative decisions that duly consider the victim's safety" (S.J. Res. 1, Section 2)
- (6) "to adjudicative decisions that duly consider the victim's interest in avoiding unreasonable delay" (S.J. Res. 1, Section 2)
- (7) "to adjudicative decisions that duly consider the victim's just and timely claims to restitution" (S.J. Res. 1, Section 2)
- (8) "to assert the rights established" (S.J. Res. 1, Section 3)

Simple rights to ask for existing and potential victims but were denied when Congress decided to make a Federal Statute instead of an amendment. States now must adopt/adapt.
